

SIMONA VAGNOLI

ABOUT ME

Hi, I'm Simona, a museum employee for 10 years, now a full time travel blogger looking for my place in the world.

I lived 6 months in Vienna and now I bounce from Marche to Tuscany, waiting for a new base.

Where will I be in the next months? Who knows...
I've a great passion in writing, organizing itineraries and I'm in love with the USA and Vienna too

I'm a restless soul: I don't feel like settling down, I need to feel me alive by exploring the world.

WWW.USALAVALIGIA.COM

The blog was born in April 2019 after one of my trip to the United States, to tell everybody about this wonderful experience.

I started with travel diaries, but the desire to share every single aspect of my trip has taken hold.

I write about the United States but also Italy, Vienna and many European destinations that I discover after the pandemic.

I love writing about emotions, lesser known places, flavors and typical dishes, unusual activities, curiosities.

Everything is strictly low cost but without too many sacrifices.

I hope to help other travelers in planning and realizing their dreams by sharing every aspect of my wonderful travels and all my emotions.
